GREATER MIAMI CONVENTION & VISITORS BUREAU

Sixteen-Time Winner

They say location, location, location are the three most important words to make your meeting a success. And Miami will surpass your expectations in all three categories because our location has everything your attendees are looking for.

Imagine planning your next event at the location everyone wants to visit. That's what will happen when you choose to meet in Miami, the location with beautiful beaches, world-class shopping, the hippest clubs and the latest restaurants. Places to see and be seen and hidden places to sit quietly and catch your breath.

When it's time for sports, there's more to do in Miami than anywhere. All major league sports, an international Motor Speedway, tennis tournaments and golf championships. Plus, more golf, tennis and swimming than anywhere else.

Waterskiing, kayaking, windsurfing, diving, kite surfing and jet skiing are available most anywhere along the Atlantic Ocean or Biscayne Bay. And along with the glamour, Miami-Dade features two national parks — the Biscayne National Preserve and Everglades National Park — as well as acres of unspoiled tropical green space, which offer fascinating new venues for your offsite events.

Our location has all the accommodations you need, including 46,365 guest rooms to be exact. Our grand dames have been face-lifted with billions of dollars of renovations and joined by scores of brand-new hotels with famous flags. And, of course, South Beach is the home of the world's largest collection of restored Art Deco, Art Nouveau and cutting-edge boutique hotels.

In the last year, newly arrived standout restaurants have opened next door to our international superstars and Miami's own world-renowned homegrown classics, increasing our total to 5,000 plus. Almost every corner hosts another ethnic favorite, trendy late scene spot or neighborhood haunt. And if you need help getting up the next morning to do it again, recharge yourself with sweet caffeinated rocket fuel called Cuban coffee.

When it comes to coming and going, no destination has invested more on transportation. Miami

International Airport boasts new terminals and a recently installed high-speed train to whisk travelers from plane to baggage claim. Miami's new intermodal center presents rental cars, taxis and limos, and public transportation in one convenient place.

Miami's cruise port, the world's busiest, is also undergoing transformational upgrades, digging a tunnel to keep trucks out of traffic, re-establishing its national rail connection and dredging its waterways to allow for bigger ships.

Miami Beach Convention Center

Miami Beach's 650,000+ sf Convention Center is blocks from beach, hotels and Lincoln Road, and adjacent to Frank Gehry's New World Symphony and Miami Beach Soundscape outdoor stage. Miami is the tropical American city that's constantly reinventing itself. And if you bring your event to Miami between May and December, you'll enjoy great values, too.

With more than 37 million visitors in 2010, Las Vegas has cemented itself as the world's most desirable destination for leisure and business travel.

— the Las Vegas Convention Center at 2.3 million sf, Mandalay Bay at 1.7 million sf and the Sands Expo & Convention Center at 2.25 million sf.

Las Vegas continues its reign as the No. 1 trade show destination in North America, hosting the most "TSNN 250" largest shows in North America for the 17th consecutive year in 2010. Las Vegas hosted 60 of the 250 shows, more than twice the number of any other destination. The Las Vegas shows encompassed more than 20 million net sf.

Las Vegas is the only destination that was developed to host people, and the wide array of major conventions and trade shows, sporting events and special events reflects that. They are also host to thousands of corporate, incentive and other meetings that travel to Las Vegas each year.

In 2010, 4.5 million meeting and convention delegates traveled to Las Vegas, generating $4.5 billion in non-gaming revenue. Las Vegas hosts approximately 18,000 meetings and conventions annually. Currently, Las Vegas has more than 10.5 million sf of convention and meeting space, including three of the 11 largest convention centers in North America

The Las Vegas Convention and Visitors Authority (LVCVA) is charged with marketing Southern Nevada as a tourism and convention destination worldwide. The LVCVA also owns and operates the Las Vegas Convention Center and Cashman Center. With more than 148,000 hotel rooms in Las Vegas alone, and approximately 10.5 million sf of meeting and exhibit space citywide, the LVCVA's mission centers on attracting ever-increasing numbers of leisure and business visitors to the area.

The LVCVA is the official destination marketing organization for Las Vegas and earned accreditation as such by the Destination Marketing Association International (DMAI) in 2007.

The LVCVA also works to bring visitors to Las Vegas and Clark County by promoting and sponsoring various special events, such as the National Finals Rodeo and the Pioneer Las Vegas Bowl. Just a few miles from downtown Nashville stands the magnificent Gaylord Opryland Resort & Convention Center. Additionally, five new dining options and a VIP check-in area were added to enhance customer service. The convention center's 6,000 sf of meeting, convention and exhibit space includes six ballrooms and a 263,000-sf exhibit hall.

Of course, while in town, you must take in the sights and, more important, the sounds of Music City. In fact, it was named the No. 1 city for live music in Travel+Leisure's "America's Favorite Cities" poll in 2010.

Many of the attractions and venues that make Music City so special also can be used as offsite venues for meetings and events including the Ryman Auditorium, Country Music Hall of Fame & Museum, Grand Ole Opry House, Schermerhorn Symphony Center and many more.

Easily Accessible

Nashville is an easy location to access. It is within 600 miles of 50 percent of the U.S. population and has an international airport that serves 89 markets. In addition to its accessibility, Nashville is continually named one of the most affordable cities to visit.

WALT DISNEY WORLD SWAN AND DOLPHIN RESORT

Twenty-One-Time Winner

Relimate your next meeting in a place where unforgettable surroundings inspire creativity. Expertly designed facilities provide the perfect backdrop for meeting groups of 15 to 15,000 attendees. Two decades of service expertise backed by award-winning accommodations and dining — that's the world you'll experience at the Walt Disney World Swan and Dolphin Resort.

The resort knows exactly what it takes to create the most imaginative meetings that generate the highest results. But how have they kept it fresh for two decades?

Imaginative Meetings

"We keep reinventing ourselves: our services, our offerings, the way we think, the way we look. We're always challenging ourselves to do it better," says Eric Opron, director of sales and marketing, Walt Disney World Swan and Dolphin Resort.

"Meeting professionals have a tough job. Walt Disney himself would be baffled at the amount of imagination it takes these days to plan one great meeting after another." Opron continues, "Trends change daily, and demands change even faster. So we have to stay far, far ahead if we're going to deliver the world's most imaginative, successful meetings."

Focus on Creativity

And they have done just that with their approach, aptly named "Relimate Meetings." The focus is on creativity. Not just in the theme of the meetings, but how you do it, the technology you use, the relationships you build, the partnerships you rely on and the solutions you create. This team literally looks at meetings in a different way.

Location, Location

"We want to think up things you've never heard of. Deliver service like you've never experienced. We want to pump up the energy so high it takes all the pressure off," says Opron.

"Being right here in the Walt Disney World Resort gives us an incredible advantage to achieve that."

This new approach lightens the load for meeting professionals. "Relimate Meetings" ultimately means the resort takes on the responsibility of achieving the "wow" factor. That frees up the meeting professional from a web of endless details and allows them to really focus on the meeting content and message.

The Walt Disney World Swan and Dolphin Resort offers more than 329,000 sf of indoor meeting space comprised of the following:
